

of books we have and unhesitatingly recommend them to our people.

On account of the addition made at various times, since our first Catalogue was issued, it became necessary to prepare a new one, which was completed and printed during the year. The expense of this as shown by the Treasurer's Report has absorbed the profits of the Library, and a portion of the interest of the funds of the Association. This is not a matter of regret, as the new catalogue is a convenience to our patrons, and the desire of the management to furnish all for the reader that can possibly be done with the money received.

We feel that still more can be done, if our readers will do just a little in interesting their friends, and showing them the advantages they can secure by becoming members.

We assure all a kind treatment at the hands of our Librarian and Assistant. And look forward to a much larger circulation for the coming year than any in our history.
